8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
9 WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
10 AT TACOMA

11 STEPHANIE TAYLOR, et. al.,

12 Plaintiffs,

13 v.

14 ROSS MACDOUGALL, et al.,

15 Defendants.

16 CASE NO. 2:19-cv-01869-RAJ-JRC

17 ORDER DENYING
18 RECONSIDERATION

19 This matter is before the Court on plaintiffs' motion for reconsideration (Dkt. 76) of the 20 Court's order denying her motion for a protective order and striking her motion to admit
21 evidence. Dkt. 72.

22 Plaintiffs' motion for a protective order requested that the Court seal various documents;
23 however, because plaintiffs neither complied with the procedure for requesting that documents
24 be sealed nor showed good cause to seal the documents, the Court denied the motion. See Dkt.
25 72. The Court also struck the motion to admit evidence because the motion contained
26

1 unredacted personal information and because plaintiffs had not obtained leave of court to file the
2 motion under seal. See Dkt. 72, at 1–2.

3 Plaintiffs now request reconsideration and appear to assert that they were prejudiced
4 because defendants belatedly filed certain responses to plaintiffs' motions. See Dkt. 76, at 2.
5 However, defendants' responses were timely filed. The Court notes that, contrary to plaintiffs'
6 argument, plaintiffs' motion to admit evidence was noted for consideration on July 17, 2020.
7 Dkt. 62.

8 Moreover, plaintiffs' arguments do not address the bases for the Court's order denying
9 the motion for a protective order and striking the motion to admit evidence. Thus plaintiffs have 10 not shown that reconsideration is appropriate. See Local Civil Rule 7(h)(1) ("The court will
11 ordinarily deny such motions in the absence of a showing of manifest error in the prior ruling or 12 a showing of new facts or legal authority which could not have been brought to its attention
13 earlier with reasonable diligence.")]

14 Therefore, the motion for reconsideration (Dkt. 76) is denied.

15 Dated this 31st day of August, 2020.
